RICHARD STRAUSS LEADS CHICAGO ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

That master musician of modern music, that wonderful creator of mood, that tireless poet, bold and composer, the maestro upon whose shelves andhouses and homes his work is found, was in the Windy City last night, and for over two hours some 3,500 per

